Message from
CHIEF OF THE ROYAL MALAYSIAN NAVY

Selamat Datang and heartiest welcome to the island of Langkawi, Malaysia for Langkawi International Maritime and Aerospace Exhibition 2017 (LIMA '17).

LIMA '17 has evolved and become a major attraction to the international maritime and aerospace industries, as well as to governments and military leaders around the globe. The Royal Malaysian Navy is proud to co-organise the maritime segment events and honoured to welcome our guests to participate in various exciting events. The maritime segment in this edition is getting bigger with the expansion of exhibition area to the LIMA '17 maritime attractions. Despite the global fiscal challenges, the participation of industries and global Navies in LIMA '17 had been very encouraging and surpasses previous records.

The Chief of Navy Roundtable Talks (CNRT) that is scheduled on 22nd March 2017 will shift the traditional conference theme from solely focussing on maritime security issues to a theme that all Navies are grappling with; which is dwindling financial allocations to sustain existing capabilities and developing new ones. The theme for this CNRT is aptly titled; "Naval Capability-Based Acquisition Reform" which is timely and faced by many Navies. The theme is specifically chosen to share and discuss on best practices as well as innovative approaches in naval acquisition process. The capability-based acquisition endeavour calls for not only Navies, but the Defence Industries and as well as academia alike to collaborate, contribute and exchange ideas for optimal results.

Sixteen International Navy ships with a total of more than 3,000 crews will be participating in LIMA '17 Fleet Review. They are our friendly Navies from all over the world including Australia, Bangladesh, India, Indonesia, Italy, Japan, Pakistan, Philippines, Singapore, Sri Lanka, Thailand, United States of America and Vietnam. Another 25 Malaysian vessels from various agencies including the Royal Malaysian Navy, Malaysia Maritime Enforcement Agency, Marine Department and Terengganu Malaysian University will also participate in the biggest ever Fleet Review in LIMA's history!

This booklet is meant to serve as an informative guide to all participants of the exhibition. It presents the overall programme and schedule of events, ceremonial procedures, specific instructions and general information on services available. The booklet also provides an overview of local custom and traditions, aimed to assist our international guests in understanding the Malaysian culture. All these information are made available so as to facilitate administration requirements and help participants in planning their activities and making your stay comfortable.

Once again, I take this opportunity to extend a very warm welcome to all participants of LIMA '17. I hope the exhibition and all activities would present a momentous experience to all. Finally, I wish all of you an exciting and pleasant stay in Langkawi! Terima kasih.

Message From
Chairman Of
EN Projects Malaysia
Sdn Bhd

On behalf of EN Projects (M) Sdn Bhd, the co-organiser for LIMA '17, we take this opportunity to extend our warmest welcome 'Selamat Datang' to all visitors, exhibitors and guests to the Langkawi International Maritime and Aerospace Exhibition LIMA '17.

LIMA will mark its 14th Anniversary this year. I am delighted that the defence industry support throughout the years has enabled LIMA to remain as one of the most strategic defence exhibitions in the Asian region. With a record attendance from invited defence dignitaries and commercial executives, this year's event promises to exceed all expectations as the regional showcase platform for the maritime and aerospace industry.

We thanked the Minister of Defence, YB Dato' Sri Hishammuddin Tun Hussein and the Minister of Transport YB Dato' Sri Liow Tiong Lai as the Co-Organising Chairman for their stewardship and generous assistance to enable LIMA '17 a tremendous success.

Thank you.

YB SENATOR ADMIRAL TAN SRI DATO' SETIA MOHD ANWAR MOHD NOR

PEOPLE AND CUSTOMS

MEASUREMENT SYSTEM

Malaysia uses the metric system. Having had an interesting past and being a part of the international spice route many hundreds of years ago, Malaysia has turned into a mosaic of cultures. Everything from its people to its architecture reflect a colourful heritage and an amalgamated culture. To understand Malaysian culture, you must first get to know its people.

DISCOVER A LAND OF INTRIGUING DIVERSITY

Malays, Chinese, Indians and many other ethnic groups have lived together in Malaysia for generations. All these cultures have influenced each other, creating a truly Malaysian culture.

MALAY

The Malays, Malaysia's largest ethnic group, make up more than 50% of the population. In Malaysia, the term Malay refers to a person who practices Islam and Malay traditions, speaks the Malay language and whose ancestors are Malays. Their conversion to Islam from Hinduism and Theravada Buddhism began in the 1400s largely influenced by the decision of the royal court of Melaka. The Malays are known for their gentle mannerisms and rich arts heritage.

CHINESE

The second largest ethnic group, the Malaysian Chinese forms about 25% of the population. Mostly descendent of Chinese immigrants during the 19th century, the Chinese are known for their diligence and keen business sense. The three sub-groups who speak a different dialect of the Chinese language are the Hokkien who live predominantly on the northern island of Penang; the Cantonese who live predominantly in the capital city Kuala Lumpur; and the Mandarin-speaking group who live predominantly in the southern state of Johor.

INDIAN

The smallest of three main ethnic groups, the Malaysian Indians form about 10% of the population. Most are descendants of Tamil speaking South Indian immigrants who came during the British colonial rule. Predominantly Hindus, they brought with them their colourful culture such as ornate temples, spicy cuisine and exquisite sarees.

INDIGENOUS ETHNIC GROUPS (ORANG ASLI)

Orang Asli is a general term used for any indigenous groups that are found in Peninsular Malaysia. They are divided into three main tribal groups; Negrito, Senoi and Proto Malay. The Negrito usually live in the north, the Senoi in the middle and the Proto-Malay in the south. Each group or sub-group has its own language and culture. Some are fishermen, farmers and semi-nomadic.

SARAWAK

Collectively known as the Dayaks, the Iban, Bidayuh and Orang Ulu are the major ethnic groups in the state of Sarawak. Dayak, which means upstream or inland, is used as a blanket term by the Islamic coastal population for over 200 tribal groups. Typically, they live in longhouses, traditional community homes that can house 20 to 100 families.

IBAN

The largest of Sarawak's ethnic groups, the Ibans form 30% of the state's population. They are actually an upriver tribe from the heart of Kalimantan. In the past, they were fearsome warriors renowned for headhunting and piracy. Traditionally, they worship a triumvirate of gods under the authority of Singalang Burung, the bird-god of war. Although now mostly Christians, many traditional customs are still practised.

BIDAYUH

Peace-loving and easy-going, the gentle Bidayuh of Sarawak are famous for their hospitality and tuak or rice wine. Making their homes in Sarawak's mountainous regions, they are mostly farmers and hunters. In their past headhunting days, their prized skulls were stored in a 'baruk', a roundhouse that rises about 1.5 metres above the ground. Originally animists, most of them have converted to Christianity.

ORANG ULU

Also known as upriver tribes of Sarawak. Forming roughly 5.5% of Sarawak's population, there are over 100,000 different Orang Ulu tribes. Arguably Borneo's most artistic people. Their large longhouses are ornately decorated with murals and superb woodcarvings. Their utensils are embellished with intricate beadwork. Aristocratic ladies cover their bodies with finely detailed tattoos.

SABAH

The largest indigenous ethnic groups of Sabah's population are the Kadazan Dusun, the Bajau and the Murut.

KADAZAN DUSUN

The largest ethnic group of Sabah, the Kadazan Dusuns form about 30% of the state's population. Actually consisting of two tribes, the Kadazan and the Dusun, they were grouped together as they both share the same language and culture. However, the Kadazan are mainly inhabitants of flat valley deltas, which are conducive to paddy field farming, while the Dusun traditionally lived in the hilly and mountainous regions of interior.

BAJAU

The second largest ethnic group in Sabah, the Bajaus make up about 15% of the state's population. Historically a nomadic sea-faring people that worshipped the Omboh Di laut or God of the Sea, they are sometimes referred as the Sea Gypsies. Those who chose to leave their sea-faring ways become farmers and cattle-breeders. These land Bajaus are nicknamed as 'Cowboys of the East' in tribute to their impressive equestrian skills, which are publicly displayed in the annual Tamu Besar festival at Kota Belud.

MURUT

The third largest ethnic group in Sabah, the Muruts make up about 3% of the state's population. Traditionally inhabiting the northern inland regions of Borneo, they were the last of Sabah's ethnic groups to renounce headhunting. Now, they are mostly shifting cultivators of hill paddy and tapioca, supplementing their diet with blowpipe hunting and fishing. Like most indigenous tribes in Sabah, their traditional clothing is decorated with distinctive beadwork.

When visiting Malaysia, visitors should observe local customs and practices. Some common courtesies and customs are as follows:

GREETINGS

Although handshakes generally suffice for both men and women, some Muslim ladies may acknowledge an introduction to a gentleman with a nod of her head and smile. A handshake is only to be reciprocated if the lady offers her hand first. The traditional greeting or salam resembles a handshake with both hand but without grasp. The man offers both hands, lightly touches his friend's outstretched hands, and then brings his hands to his chest to mean "I greet you from my heart". The visitor should reciprocate the salam.

SOCIAL VISITS

Before visiting a home, it is polite to call and inform of one's arrival. Shoes must always be removed when entering a Malaysian home. Drinks are generally offered and it would be polite to accept.

PLACES OF WORSHIP

Shoes must be removed when entering places of worship such as mosques and temples. Some mosques provide robes and scarves for female visitors. Taking photographs at places of worship is usually permitted but it is polite to request for permission.

CONDUCT

Public behaviour is especially important in Malaysian culture. Most Malaysians refrain from displaying affection in public.

LOCAL CUSTOMS AND PRACTICES

Sunbathing in the nude is not allowed on public beaches and at swimming pools. Muslims consume halal food (permissible by Muslim law) and only dine in restaurants which are certified as halal. Pork and alcohol are not consumed by Muslims. It is inappropriate to drink alcohol beverage in front of locals in open public places.

ADDRESSING A PERSON

A number of Malaysians have been conferred titles by the Malaysian Government. Among these titles are Tun, Tan Sri, Dato' and Datuk. It is appropriate to address them by their titles. Political titles include Yang Berhormat (YB) and Yang Amat Berhormat (YAB).

Sometimes, names are preceded by the terms Encik, Puan or Cik. These Malay terms are for Mr, Mrs or Miss respectively. The term Mr or Encik will not be necessary when addressing a person who has been conferred titles.

Malay men and women can be addressed by their first name. For instance, Hassan bin Rosli should be addressed as Mr Hassan and not Mr Rosli, as the latter is the father's name. The term "bin" means "son of" and 'binti' means "daughter of". Hence, they need not to be mentioned.

Chinese people have surnames which precede their given name. To quote an example, a man whose name is Ang Heng Yih can be addressed as Mr Ang. Some Chinese have English names, such as Elizabeth Tan. It would be proper to address her as Miss Tan.

Indians can be addressed by their given names. For instance, Thiru a/l Mutusamy should be addressed as Mr Thiru. The abbreviation "a/l" stands for "anak lelaki" meaning "son of" while "a/p" means "anak perempuan" or "daughter of".

IDENTITY CARDS/PASSPORTS

All personnel from participating ships are to carry their identity cards and to show them whenever required by the Royal Malaysian Police or other Malaysian Government Authorities.

USE OF MOTOR VEHICLES

Members of visiting ships, who hold a valid international driving license are permitted to drive in Malaysia. All traffic laws regarding speed limits, road signs, parking, etc are to be adhered to. Driving under the influence of alcohol or drug is also a serious offence.

FIREARMS AND WEAPONS

Except for authorised ceremonial occasions or escort duties, no weapon of any description is to be landed. It should be noted that in Malaysia, carrying firearms without authority is a serious offence.

Things to Do, Sights to See

Langkawi comprises a group of 99 islands lying off the northwestern coast of Peninsular Malaysia. The main island is known as Pulau Langkawi and the islands are shrouded with an intriguing heritage of myths and legends.

Langkawi has been accorded the Geopark status by UNESCO for its beautiful geological heritage of stunning landscapes, karsts, caves, glacial dropstones and fossils. With a history dating back to 500 million years, Langkawi contains unique rock formations that stir the imagination and baffle the mind.

There is also a host of unique attractions for those who enjoy sightseeing. The gentle smiles and warm hospitality will soon charm you.

EAGLE SQUARE

or Dataran Lang is the main island's most prominent landmark for visitors arriving via the sea. Situated near the Kuah Jetty, the main attraction of the square is the magnificent statue of the reddish brown eagle majestically poised for flight.

According to local folklore, Langkawi derived its name from the eagle or helang. In old Malay, kawi denotes reddish brown, hence Langkawi means 'reddish brown eagle'.

GALERIA PERDANA

Galeria Perdana houses an impressive collection of over 2,500 state gifts and awards presented to the former Prime Minister, Tun Dr Mahathir Mohamad. The exhibits at the gallery include crystalware and gifts fashioned out of wood, leather, silver, copper and glass. There are also musical instruments, crafts and weapons. Be inspired by the intricate Islamic architectural design which adorn the gallery.

LAMAN PADI

Laman Padi highlights the history, heritage and development of paddy cultivation as the oldest agricultural industry in Malaysia. One of the attractions here is a rice museum displaying artifacts and photos depicting the significance of paddy cultivation in the country. You can try your hand at paddy planting using both traditional and modern methods of cultivation.

LANGKAWI CABLE CAR

Enjoy an exhilarating cable car ride to the top of Gunung Mat Chincang. Visitors can enjoy marvellous views of the Andaman Sea and the Langkawi island group, as well as breathtaking sights such as overhanging cliff walls and isolated pinnacles. With a length of 919.50 m, it also has one of the steepest gradients in the world, at 42°.

Another impressive attraction here is the 125 m suspension bridge. A remarkable feat of engineering, the curved bridge links the cable car station to the Mat Chincang mountain range.

KOTA MAHSURI

Its fabled and historical past is a significant site on the island that has been preserved for posterity. This memorial was erected in honour of Mahsuri, a fair maiden who had been unjustly accused of adultery. According to the legend, she had bled white blood at her death as a sign of her innocence. In her dying breath, she laid a curse on the island, declaring it would remain barren for seven generations.

UNDERWATER WORLD LANGKAWI

The place features the island's rich treasure trove of marine life. Located at the popular Cenang Beach, this aquarium features more than 5,000 types of aquatic life, exhibited in more than 100 tanks of multiple sizes. The highlight is a giant tank housing large marine species such as sharks, stingrays, moray eels and green turtles, with a 15-metre tunnel for visitors to walk through.

This new facility also has a 3D state of the art theater that airs informative documentaries on the island's marine life.

LAKE OF THE PREGNANT MAIDEN

Known as Tasik Dayang Bunting among the local this lake is sure to ethrall you with its beautiful surroundings and mysterious past. The name is attributed to the legend of a lovely fairy princess who married earthly prince. Her first child died shortly after birth and she was sad and depressed.

Before she returned to her celestial abode, she blessed the waters so that any childless maiden who bathe in the lake would conceive thereafter.

CRAFT CULTURAL COMPLEX

The complex is located at the northern coastline of Langkawi in the vicinity of Teluk Yu, about 30 minutes drive from the airport or 45 minutes from Kuah Town. Nestled on a hillside overlooking the sea, this majestic complex offers a wide range of Malaysian handicraft such as delicate hand-drawn batik and intricately-carved silverware.

PULAU PAYAR MARINE PARK

Pulau Payar Marine Park is situated in the northern part of the Straits of Malacca, 19 nm south of Langkawi. The marine park teems with a fascinating diversity of marine life and vegetation. The sheltered waters are ideal for snorkeling, diving and swimming. Among the enchanting dive spots is the Coral Garden, an area covered with bright, multi-hued soft corals.
